1 INTRODUCTION

1.1.1 The purpose of this document is to outline the consultation plan for the Submission Draft stage of the Aylesbury Area Action Plan (AAP). This plan elaborates on the overarching Consultation Strategy, providing more detail with regards to the planned consultation at this stage. This document should therefore be read in conjunction with the Consultation Strategy.

1.1.2 This Consultation Plan is structured as follows:

- Aylesbury AAP: this section will establish the purpose and scope of the Aylesbury AAP;
- Consultation Strategy: this section will summarise the consultation principles and approach outlined within the Consultation Strategy;
- Submission Draft Consultation Plan: this section will establish, in more detail, the consultation approach for the submission stage of the AAP preparation process; and
- Next steps: this section will outline how the consultation responses received at the submission draft stage will be reported and fed into the final submission stage of the AAP.

2 THE AYLESBURY AAP

2.1.1 The Aylesbury Estate is located within the Walworth ward of the London Borough of Southwark, to the south of the Elephant and Castle Opportunity Area and to the north of Peckham. Primarily built between 1970 and 1977 the Aylesbury Estate was, at the time, aspirational both in terms of its architectural design and social ambitions. Today, however, the need for regeneration is evident. The estate has fallen into general decline and suffers from an increasing array of social problems, including crime and vandalism.

2.1.2 In September 2005 Southwark Council made the decision to comprehensively redevelop the estate. The council and the Aylesbury New Deal for Communities (ANDC), in consultation with key stakeholders, commissioned the preparation of an Area Action Plan (AAP) for the Aylesbury Estate and its immediate environs.

2.1.3 Whilst the Aylesbury Estate lies at the heart of the AAP area and will be the main focus for transformation, the boundary of the AAP extends beyond the estate itself to ensure that future development within the area is well integrated with its surroundings.

2.1.4 As part of the plan preparation process a Baseline Report has been written, as well as an Issues and Options Report, Preferred Options Report and Revised Preferred Options Report, which have been subject to a statutory period of public consultation. The next stage of the process is to prepare the final submission AAP.
3 THE CONSULTATION STRATEGY

3.1.1 In preparing the Aylesbury AAP consultation with individuals and groups has been an essential part of the plan preparation process. A consultation strategy was therefore prepared at stage 1 of the process, detailing who will be consulted, how and when. The strategy outlines a number of innovative consultation techniques, to effectively engage with the diverse communities of the Aylesbury Area. Indeed, throughout the plan preparation process the consultation undertaken has gone above and beyond the statutory requirements, as outlined within government regulations and the council’s Statement of Community Involvement (SCI), to engage more continuously and intensively with those who have a stake in the future of the area.

3.1.2 The main principles that have guided the consultation for the Aylesbury AAP are as follows:

- The level and frequency of consultation will depend on the expected level of change;
- Information will always be communicated both clearly and openly;
- Barriers to successful consultation will be overcome to ensure that all under-represented groups are actively engaged in the AAP;
- Consultation will be front-loaded to ensure that consensus is built amongst the Aylesbury community over the emerging proposals early within the plan preparation process;
- Consultation fatigue will be avoided by streamlining consultation exercises and ensuring that consultation on similar issues is co-ordinated.

3.1.3 During each stage of the plan preparation process there has been a period of formal consultation. During these periods statutory consultees, as identified within the council’s SCI, have been invited to comment on the emerging AAP. In addition, documents were available to view and comment on at the council’s offices, on the council’s website and in other suitable locations. Following each stage of consultation all responses have been collated and a written response provided for each.

3.1.4 In addition to the statutory consultation requirements the wider community and public have been actively engaged in the AAP preparation process. Consultation methods have included the ‘Neighbourhood Team’ and consultation with key community groups, publications in Southwark Council’s Regeneration Magazine, joint Council/NDC regeneration newsletter and three public events. These additional consultation techniques have ensured that those with a stake in the regeneration of the Aylesbury area are actively involved at all stages of the process and that they support and feel a sense of ownership over the emerging proposals.

3.1.5 For further details about the consultation techniques proposed for the Aylesbury AAP, please refer to the Consultation Strategy.
4 SUBMISSION DRAFT CONSULTATION PLAN

4.1.1 At each stage of the plan preparation process a consultation plan has been produced to set out in more detail who will be consulted, how and when. This document is the consultation plan for stage four of the Aylesbury AAP, namely the submission stage.

4.1.2 At this stage, in accordance with the Town and Country Planning (Local Development) (England) (Amendment) Regulations 2008, the proposed submission documents will be made available for a six-week period of consultation on the issues of soundness prior to the submission of the documents to the Secretary of State.

4.1.3 The following table outlines all of the consultation actions that will be undertaken at the submission stage of the Aylesbury AAP in more detail.

6 NEXT STEPS

6.1.1 Following the consultation on the proposed submission documents all responses will be collated and together with the final submission documents a statement will be submitted setting out the number of representations made and a summary of the main issues raised in those representations.

6.1.2 Guidance on the preparation of Development Plan Documents states that at the time the plan is published under regulation 27 it should be considered sound. It is therefore anticipated that there will be very few changes to the proposed submission documents following the six-week period of consultation on the soundness of the documents.

6.1.3 Following any minor alterations to the proposed submission documents the final submission documents will be submitted to the Secretary of State in accordance with regulation 30 of the Town and Country Planning (Local Document) (England) (Amendment) Regulations 2008.

6.1.4 At this point the final submission documents must be made publicly available in accordance with regulation 30(3). This includes making the documents available in the council’s offices, libraries, the one-stop shops and neighbourhood housing offices; publishing the documents on the council website; notifying all consultees previously invited to make representations that the AAP and supporting documents have been submitted to the Secretary of State; and publishing a local advertisement to notify a wider audience that the final submission documents are available to view.

1 In the event that representations raise fundamental issues of soundness, then best practice guidance must be followed. This could necessitate the plan to be withdrawn.
