BBWN1303	Newington	Pullens TRA	Pruning, Recycling & Weaving	recreational activities, increasing the opportunity to socialise and integrate with others members of the community. With our summer activities we aim to achieve: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Increase the quality of life of our users breaking isolation. ▪ Facilitate community integration ▪ Increase well being of disable users their carers and families. There has been much recent interest in gardening on the Pullens estate as well as locally in the Crampton St planters and renewed enthusiasm for the plans for the Amelia St open space. But gardening generates waste pruning which are just disposed of and forgotten, though many pruning's can be weaved into useful and decorative objects. The idea is for the Pullens TRA to organise and host a recycling/weaving training day with local artist Stella Harding. Stella Harding is a renowned basket weaver, formerly of Pullens Yards and now at Deptford Creek, who artistically weaves plant stems into pleasing and useful shapes - pretty much any long stem cuttings can be woven. The plan would be for morning foraging in a local green space supervised by Walworth Garden Farm. Then in the afternoon Stella Harding would show residents how to weave stems into baskets and other useful and decorative objects.	Pullen Centre and local green space such as Amelia Street Park, Walworth SE17	£800
