Lindsay Johnson, main spokesperson, volunteer and mentor of Leaders of Tomorrow explained Val Miller who had worked in the community for 30 years set up the group in 2002. One of its purposes was to challenge the stereo typical attitude and images of young people. He said it was about raising achievements and heightening their academic level. The group consists of people from different age ranges and their motto at the group is 'mind is power'. They meet at least once a week and have debates about current affairs and they tackle issues like knife crime. Guest speakers have been invited to provide inspiration to young people so they were able to broaden their horizons outside their local area.

The project organised trips to the theatre so the young people were able to improve their language skills. Project members received mentoring on academic achievements. The Leaders of Tomorrow usually ask young people to mentor the younger members of the project to share their reading skills and knowledge and raise awareness about great leaders. The other topics they talked about was diversity in Peckham.

The young people that were in attendance spoke about what it was like to be part of Leaders of Tomorrow.

Nadia, 16 years old said she had been member of the Leaders of Tomorrow for five years. Nadia explained that since being a member it had raised her confidence, awareness and levels of achievement. She recognised and embraced the cohesive community which was about acceptance and respect.

He made reference to the recent fatality of a 16 year old boy in Elephant and Castle who was set upon by several youths.

Other representatives from Leaders of Tomorrow gave their experiences and shared them with the meeting. They also thanked the community council for the funding the project had received.

In response to questions from councillors the representatives responded to the following:

The key motivation to keep young people involved would be:

- People, parameters and discipline.
- Achievements and try to aim for their potential full in whatever they wanted to achieve.
- Reading and learning would be encouraged.
- To encourage young people to have respect, care, keep eye contact and stand in upright position – notably referred to as ‘soft skills’.
- Interact with other community groups – as they currently use the community space at Peckham Platform (formerly called Peckham Space).

How does the community council get young people more involved in their community? The main spokesperson said usually by word of mouth.

11. SECURE CYCLE PARKING (BIKE HANGAR)

Note: This is an executive function.

Members considered the recommendations in the report.

RESOLVED:

That the community council agreed the following recommendations that are due to be made to the cabinet member for environment and the public realm:

- 1.1 Due to a majority of respondents supporting the introduction of a cycle hangar: 89% in Dayton Grove and Southwark's on-going commitment to improve and promote cycling and safety in the borough, it was recommended that the scheme proceeds to implementation subject to necessary statutory procedures.
- 1.2 Due to split opinion on the introduction of a cycle hangar: 40% support Surrey Road and Southwark's on-going commitment to improve and promote cycling and safety in the borough, it was recommended that the scheme proceeds to implementation at a revised location on the same road, subject to the necessary statutory procedures.
- 1.3 That the community council note the majority of respondents opposed the introduction of a cycle hangar on:

Harlescott Road, Limesford Road and Hollydale Road but that many of those also suggested alternative nearby locations where they support the introduction of a cycle hangar.
- 1.4 It is therefore recommended that the scheme proceeds to implementation at the following reserved nearby locations, subject to the necessary statutory procedures:

- Hollydale Road
- Brabourn Grove junction with Hollydale Road
- Limesford Road
- Harlescott Road – 2 x hangars onto Inverton Road between junction with Harlescott Road and Limesford Road.

12. PUBLIC QUESTION TIME

The following were submitted as public questions:

PQ1 - Peckham Co-design: When would it be re-evaluated? Would local people have a democratic vote on the design process.

The community council agreed to re-visit this at a future meeting.

PQ2 – Council employees were recently offered redundancy packages and a number of council employees within Southwark decided to take the redundancy package. This could hinder local services particularly as many of the staff were long serving employees with extensive experience. Many of those would be replaced by agency staff. How many agency staff are there currently employed by Southwark and could council services still be maintained or would it have an impact on services?

Councillor Colley responded and outlined that £96 million saving had to be made by the council over the next three years. This would mean a significant reduction in staffing levels. The council as much as possible were trying to avoid compulsory redundancies hence the reason why the enhanced redundancy package was introduced to council employees. Currently the council has around 350 agency staff which has significantly reduced since 2010, when at the time there were 1200 agency staff working at the council.

The chair mentioned that an item on the budget would be considered at the next meeting. Any suggestions would be welcomed at the meeting.

PQ3 – Would it be possible for the community council to re-visit the crossing and bus stop on Peckham High Street? This follows the recent fatality of an elderly resident that lived in Peckham who crossed this road when the accident happened.

The chair said this would be presented as a community council question to the council assembly meeting. A response on this issue would be provided at a future meeting.

13. COMMUNITY COUNCIL QUESTION TO COUNCIL ASSEMBLY

Community council question submitted in July 2015:

At the meeting on the 6 July 2015 members agreed to submit the following community council question to the council assembly meeting in November 2015:

“Will the cabinet member for regeneration give an update to the Peckham and Nunhead community council on the Peckham Square arch?”

Community council question submitted in September 2015:

At the meeting on the 16 September 2015 members agreed to submit the following community council question to council assembly:

“We would like to ask the cabinet member for Environment and Public Realm to lobby Transport for London (TfL) for the installation of a new bus stop along Peckham High Street. This was in light of the recent fatality of an elderly resident in Peckham?”

Note:

The question should be submitted at a future council assembly meeting.
