

Old Kent Road Social Regeneration Charter
Equalities Impact Assessment
December 2019

Guidance notes

Things to remember:

Under the Public Sector Equality Duty (PSED) public authorities are required to have due regard to the aims of the general equality duty when making decisions and when setting policies. Understanding the affect of the council's policies and practices on people with different protected characteristics is an important part of complying with the general equality duty. Under the PSED the council must ensure that:

- Decision-makers are aware of the general equality duty's requirements.
- The general equality duty is complied with before and at the time a particular policy is under consideration and when a decision is taken.
- We consciously consider the need to do the things set out in the aims of the general equality duty as an integral part of the decision-making process.
- We have sufficient information to understand the effects of the policy, or the way a function is carried out, on the aims set out in the general equality duty.
- We review policies or decisions, for example, if the make-up of service users changes, as the general equality duty is a continuing duty.
- We take responsibility for complying with the general equality duty in relation to all their relevant functions. Responsibility cannot be delegated to external organisations that are carrying out public functions on their behalf.
- We consciously consider the need to do the things set out in the aims of the general equality duty not only when a policy is developed and decided upon, but when it is being implemented.

Best practice guidance from the Equality and Human Rights Commission recommends that public bodies:

- Consider all the protected characteristics and all aims of the general equality duty (apart from in relation to marriage and civil partnership, where only the discrimination aim applies).
- Use equality analysis to inform policy as it develops to avoid unnecessary additional activity.
- Focus on understanding the effects of a policy on equality and any actions needed as a result, not the production of a document.
- Consider how the time and effort involved should relate to the importance of the policy to equality.
- Think about steps to advance equality and good relations as well as eliminate discrimination.
- Use good evidence. Where it isn't available, take steps to gather it (where practical and proportionate).
- Use insights from engagement with employees, service users and others who can help provide evidence for equality analysis.

Equality analysis should be referenced in community impact statements in Council reports. Community impact statements are a corporate requirement in all reports to the following meetings: the cabinet, individual decision makers, scrutiny, regulatory committees and community councils. Community impact statements enable decision makers to identify more easily how a decision might affect different communities in Southwark and to consider any implications for equality and diversity.

The public will be able to view and scrutinise any equality analysis undertaken. Equality analysis should therefore be written in a clear and transparent way using plain English. Equality analysis may be published under the council's publishing of equality information, or be present within divisional/departmental/service business plans. These will be placed on the website for public view under the council's Publications Scheme.

Equality analysis should be reviewed after a sensible period of time to see if business needs have changed and/or if the effects that were expected have occurred. If not then you will need to consider amending your policy accordingly. This does not mean repeating the equality analysis, but using the experience gained through implementation to check the findings and to make any necessary adjustments. Engagement with the community is recommended as part of the development of equality analysis. The council's Community Engagement Division and critical friend, the Forum for Equality and Human Rights in Southwark can assist with this (see section below on community engagement and www.southwarkadvice.org.uk).

Whilst the equality analysis is being considered, Southwark Council recommends considering health and wellbeing implications, as health and health inequalities are strongly influenced by the environment we live and work in. As a major provider of services to Southwark residents, the council has a legal duty to reduce health inequalities and this is reflected in its values and aims. For this reason, the council recommends considering health and wellbeing impacts in all equality analyses, not forgetting to include identified potential mitigating actions.

Section 2: Brief description of policy/decision/business plan

The Old Kent Road Social Regeneration Charter (OKRSRC) will act as the social regeneration framework for the Old Kent Road Area Action Plan. The charter sets out the Vision, ambitions and objectives for the 'Regeneration for All' taking place across the Old Kent Road area. The charter sets out a number of indicators which will be used to monitor the progress of the council in achieving 'Regeneration for All'. The charter will be referred to on an ongoing basis to ensure that the council is making progress in achieving the stated ambitions and objectives. An annual monitoring report will be produced to ensure that the objectives within the charter are still being met.

Section 4: Pre-implementation equality analysis

This section considers the potential impacts (positive and negative) on groups with 'protected characteristics', the equality information on which this analysis is based and any mitigating actions to be taken.

The first column on the left is for societal and economic issues (discrimination, higher poverty levels) and the second column on the right for health issues, physical and mental. As the two aspects are heavily interrelated it may not be practical to fill out both columns on all protected characteristics. The aim is, however, to ensure that health is given special consideration, as it is the council's declared intention to reduce health inequalities in the borough. The Public Health Team can assist with research and data.

Age - Where this is referred to, it refers to a person belonging to a particular age (e.g. 32 year olds) or range of ages (e.g. 18 - 30 year olds).

Potential impacts (positive and negative) of proposed policy/decision/business plan

The OKRSRC is anticipated to have positive social benefits for people of all ages living and working in Old Kent Road.

Promise 1 relates to making Old Kent Road the best place to grow up with a radically improved and expanded educational, sports, culture and youth offer. The indicators related to this promise are:

- School readiness - % of pupils achieving a good level of development at age 5
- Number of OFSTED Good or Outstanding schools
- Percentage of Children who are obese in Reception and Year 6
- Number of sport, leisure, culture and community facilities

Promise 4 states that everyone can be happy and successful as Old Kent Road is a healthy place to live, work and grow old with connected and cohesive communities. The indicators relating to this promise are:

- Increase life expectancy to exceed the London and National average
- A&E emergency attendances
- Rate of requests for support to adult social care
- Percentage of residents who agree that there are enough places in their local area for meeting with friends, relatives and work colleagues.

Potential health impacts (positive and negative)

The OKRSRC is anticipated to have positive health impacts for all different groups in the Old Kent Road area. There are no foreseen negative health impacts to people based on their age.

Promise 3 states that air quality is improved by halving resident's exposure to pollutants. The indicators relating to this promise are:

- Concentration of Nitrogen dioxide
- Fine particulates PM10 and PM2.5
- Air quality around schools
- Extending the Bakerloo line
- Council leads on environmentally friendly and sustainable planning policy.

Children are particularly vulnerable to the impacts of poor air quality. Currently 9 out of 13 schools in the OKR opportunity area have \NO2 levels that are above the legal limit of 40µg.m<sup>-3</sup> so poor air quality is having a particularly negative impact on children. This promise targets children and young people by specifically tracking air quality around schools to mitigate against the added risk of negative air quality on young people and will have a particularly positive health impact on children and young people.

Promise 10 states that all young people and those who need to retrain receive the best education.

The promise to increase life expectancy, reduce A&E emergency attendances and to increase the percentage of residents who have a local area in which to meet friends will have benefits for adults and older people within the borough.

There are no foreseen negative social impacts to people based on their age.
