

Procurement Act 2023

Originally scheduled go live date: 28 October 2024

Delayed until 24 February 2025

Procurement Act 2023

The Procurement Act 2023 establishes a comprehensive legal framework for the procurement of goods, services, and works within the public sector. Its primary aim is to improve transparency, efficiency, and accountability in procurement processes while promoting fair competition. The Act also seeks to reduce corruption and increase public trust in procurement activities.

It offers more flexibility in the routes to going to market but requires much greater publication of information via notices to increase transparency

Covered Procurements - Financial Thresholds

Department	Value (inc. VAT)	Value (excl. VAT)
Supply and Services	£214,904	£179,086.67
Works	£5,372,609	£4,477,174.17
Light Touch Regime Services	£663,540	£552,950
Concession Contracts	£5,372,609	£4,477,174.17

From 1 January 2024 – 31 Dec 2025. Financial Thresholds are revised every two years.

The thresholds for contracts to be fully covered by the Procurement Act remain as current but require a notice to be published for all contracts, regardless of how let over £30k in value.

Legislative landscape

The introduction of the new procurement legislation from 24 February 2025, introduces a new set of regulations but it should be noted that not all new procurements will fall under its regulations for some time.

Procurements that started before 24 February 2025, as well as any using a framework agreement that was let under the Public Contract Regulations (2015) will remain under these regulations.

Procurement Act implications

Procurement regulations to date have covered sections of the Procurement Cycle from Identifying Need to Awarding Contracts.

The Procurement Act also includes obligations around Managing Contracts and the publication of performance details for the first time.

Key Changes

- Greater transparency - publication of notices and contract information

From two notices to up to 17 including at the natural end of a contract

- Publication of a Pipeline of forthcoming tenders

All those to be let in the next 18-24 months with a value of over £2m

- Publication of Redacted Contracts

For contracts over £5m within 90 days of entering into a contract (180 days for Light Touch Regime)

- Covers contract management as well as procurement

KPIs have to be published on the notice, annual payment and spend performance needs to be published on the Find a Tender Service website.

- Covers contract management as well as procurement

Obligation to manage real and perceived conflicts of interest through out the procurement and contract performance

New Procurement Objectives

New Procurement Objectives and an obligation to consider meeting the National Procurement Policy Statement objectives. These are currently:

- delivering value for money
- maximising public benefit
- sharing information for the purpose of allowing suppliers and others to understand the authority's procurement policies and decisions and
- acting, and being seen to act, with integrity.

With the delay to the implementation of the Act, there has been consultation on amendments to this including around mission-led procurement but remain mostly similar.

New Obligations

- Consideration of barriers to SMEs (and how these could be changed)

In carrying out a covered procurement, a contracting authority must:

- have regard to the fact that small and medium-sized enterprises may face particular barriers to participation, and
- consider whether such barriers can be removed or reduced

- Consideration of splitting the contract into Lots

Option to consider the need to split the tender into smaller lots that may be easily accessible by SMEs

- Central Digital Platform- central repository for all suppliers to capture their information
- Contract Management KPIs have to be published when inviting tenders for contracts worth £5m+
- At least annually, publication of performance against all KPIs for these contracts

Annual report on payment and spend information to be published (2026 onwards)

Management of Conflicts of Interest – up front and on-going through out the contract life

Pipeline Notice

Previously a voluntary requirement, this is now an annual obligation.

One of the most important task a contracting authorities can do is to provide the market with information about current and future public contract opportunities by publishing a forward-looking procurement pipeline in May each year.

A pipeline notice is a notice setting out specified information about any public contract with an estimated value of more than £2 million in respect of which the contracting authority intends to publish a tender notice or transparency notice during the reporting period.

Procurement Routes

A contracting authority must carry out a competitive tendering procedure before awarding a public contract. A competitive tendering procedure is either:

- Open - One stage
- Competitive Flexible - Flexibility to include stages, down selections and presentations etc but could reflect a two-stage process
- Open Frameworks - Subsequent frameworks that reopen every three years and can last up to eight years
- Dynamic Marketplaces - Only for over threshold “covered” procurements

The procedures invites flexibility to allow contracting authorities to design the procurement process according to considerations specific to the particular contract being procured.

Be mindful of the overriding requirement of proportionality - it should ensure that the process it designs is not unnecessarily complex or burdensome for suppliers.

Evaluation methodology*

The Act replaces:

Most Economic Advantageous Tender (MEAT)

MEAT: allows contracting authorities to place more emphasis on qualitative and other criteria aside from price but not exclude it altogether. (Quality/Price ratio) (Public Contracts Regulations 2015)

with

Most Advantageous Tender (MAT)

MAT: Contracting authorities may use non-financial criteria when identifying the successful bidder and ignore price, when appropriate, i.e. pricing needn't be a determining factor in awarding contracts. Instead - economic, ethical, and social responsibility can be the basis for a decision. (100% Quality) (Procurement Act 2023)

(*will be referred to as Assessment Methodology)

Contract Management

During the performance of a contract:

- Management, reporting and publication of performance against the set KPIs within the Contracts

Notices on FTS to be made within 30 days of the annual review period

- Publication of Payment information as required under the Procurement Act
- Recording formal records and details onto the Contracts Register
- Management of the Conflicts of Interests within the contract
- Formal amendments and variations to be recorded

Any variations to be recorded and saved onto the eProcurement system

Modification of Contracts

Greater need to publish amendments will mean more GW3 reports

- Greater transparency

Amendments to contracts to be done up front and recorded via GW3 reports –both for value, duration and scope

- Greater potential to vary for those contracts let under the Procurement Act than under the current PCR

Publications of Modification of contract notice are required in FTS

Variations may require a new redacted Contract to be published within 90 days

Planning - Procurement Pathway

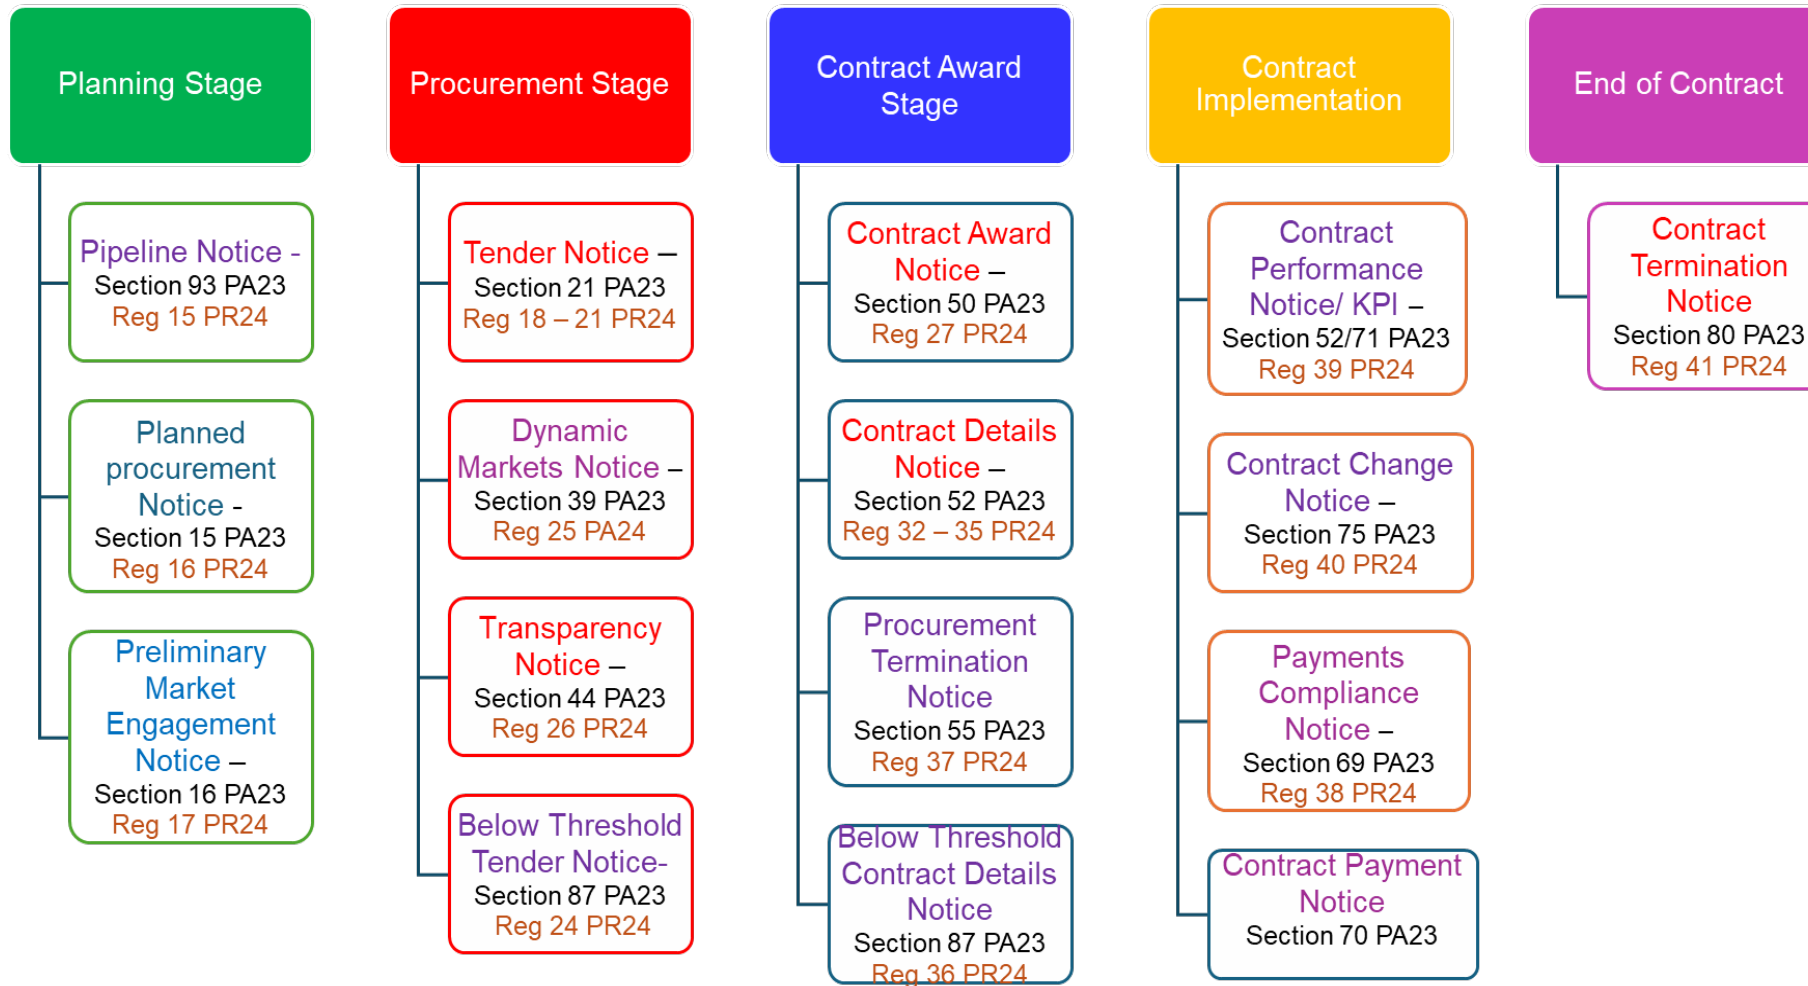

Key Take Aways

- More time will need to plan well in advance in preparation to go to tender and development of documents, planning and content of notices
- Gives greater flexibility around designing procurement processes but requires greater transparency in the publication of notices.
- Need time to include pre-market engagement or to publish justification if don't do this
- All procurement activities over £2m to be registered on the procurement pipeline
- Central digital platform = “new” version of the Find a Tender Service
- The Act will cover ‘whole life cycle’ – into Contract Management and need to actively manage contract performance and variations – including redacted contracts over £5m in value
- New Act offers challenges and opportunities, as well as risks, especially around resource implications
