A Decent Home: Government Definition

Criterion A It meets the current statutory minimum standard for housing	Dwellings which fail to meet this criterion are those containing one or more hazards assessed as serious ('Category 1') under the Housing Health and Safety Rating System (HHSRS).
Criterion B b) It is in a reasonable state of repair	 Dwellings which fail to meet this criterion are those where either: one or more of the key building components are old and, because of their condition, need replacing or major repair; or two or more of the other building components are old and, because of their condition, need replacing or major repair.
Criterion C It has reasonably modern facilities and services	 Dwellings which fail to meet this criterion are those which lack three or more of the following: a reasonably modern kitchen (20 years old or less); a kitchen with adequate space and layout; a reasonably modern bathroom (30 years old or less); an appropriately located bathroom and WC; adequate insulation against external noise (where external noise is a problem); and adequate size and layout of common areas for blocks of flats A home lacking two or fewer of the above is still classed as decent, therefore it is not necessary to modernise kitchens and bathrooms if a home meets the remaining criteria.
Criterion D It provides a reasonable degree of thermal comfort	This criterion requires dwellings to have both effective insulation and efficient heating. It should be noted that, whilst dwellings meeting criteria b, c and d are likely also to meet criterion a, some Category 1 hazards may remain to be addressed. For example, a dwelling meeting criterion d may still contain a Category 1 damp or cold hazard.

This is a low standard and the majority of works that are carried out relate to the structure of the properties – windows, roofs, doors, and are key components of the building - electrics, heating, etc.

Within the definition of Decent Homes, there is scope not to renew one non-key component whilst still making the property decent; or two 'modern facilities'. It means that renewal of old kitchens and bathrooms was not automatic, and no wider investment to the estate took place. (Our landlord obligations were calculated/delivered separately to DH).

This was the approach to show we could deliver DH as per the 2006 Option Appraisal.

Southwark Decent Homes Standard

The standard is higher than Decent Homes but isn't strictly defined for all properties/estates. For the elements 'considered' below, contracts were to be extended on the basis of the needs and priorities of the stock and environment.

Delivered within all contracts

- Renewal of all old & poor condition kitchens and bathrooms.
- Double Glazing unless design considerations.
- Sustainability works not defined

Considered as part of contracts

- Improvement of entrances & common areas
- Environmental works
- Security works
- Works to non-housing T&RA Halls, garages.
